Sany Photovoltaic Energy Storage Scam

Overview

In this type of scam, fraudsters lure homeowners by offering "free" solar panels, claiming that government programs or grants will cover the entire cost of installation. Disclaimer: This article is intended to provide an informational overview of consumer protections for interested homeowners. It's not intended. While reputable companies can help you save money with clean or solar energy improvements, scammers offer more than they can deliver. The scams vary, but here's the gist: someone claiming to be with the government or your utility company promises big savings on your utility bills from solar energy. Find a network of trusted installers for solar system, solar panels and electricity needs. Find a solar panel installer today! Whether it's door-to-door or online, a forceful salesperson might inform you that a certain deal, like a financing rate or an incentive program, will only remain available. Solar power stands out as a bright prospect in the ever-evolving landscape of renewable energy. Like any industry experiencing rapid growth, the solar sector isn't immune to unscrupulous practices and solar fraud. Here are some common scams to be aware of: 1.
