Solar secondary substation container

Overview

Smaller distribution substations are subdivided into container-sized modules, which can be manufactured, assembled and tested at the factory, allowing easy transport and fast installation and commissioning at site. Customers requiring shorter overall delivery times and minimal on-site work have been the main drivers for Hitachi Energy's development of pre-fabricated indoor substations. Containerised substations are offered as standard or bespoke packages to suit the client's requirements. Containerised substations are perfect for customers who need portability and flexibility. We employ Schweitzer Relays for remote monitoring, enabling real-time detection of the operational status of low voltage cabinets, transformers, and ring network cabinets. Prefabricated substations with up to 420 kV : Siemens Energy provides a large range of prefabricated substations that are equally suited for either temporary or permanent use in challenging grid expansion- and maintenance programs or as emergency response. The enclosure enables the solar collection unit to be easily and rapidly connected to the grid, reduces wear, and simplifies specifically designed to be fully compatible with the requirements of the inverters.
